From the Editor

There is always a moment at the start of January when the realisation hits us that we can't say 'Happy New Year' any more - the year has truly begun and we are all busily making plans for the rest of it. Now, here we are already in February, with the promise of Spring glimpsed in our beautiful surroundings; snowdrops peeking through and then the first signs of the Spring primroses and bulbs we planted late last year.

As I write, my mind is still lingering on all the Christmas festivities; this was our first Christmas in the Chet valley Benefice, and what a wonderful time it was. So many from our communities joining in Carol singing in Church and out; in the pubs, in the street, in our care homes and schools. The Victorian Evening , with everyone working together - the church, our local councils, businesses and organisations was a joy. My thanks to all the lovely folk here who work hard to make these things happen.

There is so much to look forward to; February is short, but it's a good opportunity to make plans on how to make the best of our time for a really enjoyable 2026. See inside for many ideas for activities, clubs etc. We are really fortunate to have so much going on. I look forward to seeing you around.

In the meantime, Keep Warm! Miriam Fife

Ministerial Musings

February is a month in which winter hasn't quite gone and spring hasn't quite arrived. "February fill dike, either black or white" is an old saying which means we could have rain or snow this month.

Some of the worst winter weather has happened in February. Do you remember The Beast from the East when snow fell in February 2018? However, catkins and snowdrops appear and birds are beginning to sing. A drift of snowdrops is a joy to behold. This little white flower is not one of our natives but has been grown in this country for centuries. They are often found in churchyards or in the grounds of old monasteries. There are twenty different species and two thousand plus varieties! Another weather saying is "If Candlemas be fair and bright winter will have another flight. If Candlemas be cold and grey, winter has gone away".

Candlemas, February 2nd . is midpoint between the Shortest Day, December 21st . and the Spring Equinox, March 21st. It's a pivot between winter and spring, between Christmas and Lent. Candlemas has been celebrated from the 4th century.

It's the day when the church remembers an incident from Jesus' childhood. Mary and Joseph brought the baby Jesus to the Temple in Jerusalem to present him to God and to offer the poor person's sacrifice of two pigeons. Mary was also "cleansed" after the birth. You can read the story of the Presentation of Jesus and the Purification of Mary in Chapter 2 of Luke's gospel.

While the family was in the Temple, a man called Simeon approached them. He had been promised by God that he would see the Messiah before his death. He recognised the baby as the long-awaited Messiah and praised God. Simeon knew that the baby was no ordinary baby. He was the one sent by God to be a blessing to his people and even, more amazingly, to be a light to all people.

This baby was for everybody! Jesus still is for everyone.

This is a relaxed and contemporary way of 'doing church'. Open between 10:00am and 12.00 you can join in with as much or as little as you wish; every session will be a variety of coffee, cake, discussion, crafts, games, stories, reflection and song, suitable for all ages.

Last Sunday Praise: Contemporary Evening Worship Service is held in St John's Chapel every last Sunday of the month. Refreshments from 6.30, service begins at 7pm. A warm welcome awaits at this informal, Spirit-filled service!

Families are welcome at all of our services.

If I haven't wished you a Happy New Year yet, then I apologise, things have been a little hectic at County Hall over the Christmas period.

You will no doubt have read that the Devolution deal that we were promised, and which was scheduled to elect our new Mayor this May, has now been postponed for 2 years. I cannot tell you how frustrated we all are having worked hard to get our region onto the priority program, having got 90% of the way there towards setting up the new combined authority and having spent years now trying to get this over the line. So what happens now?

We are still discussing with government if we can access some of the Investment Fund that we were promised, so that we can start delivering the projects that all Norfolk and Suffolk councils had come together to propose for our two counties. Devolution isn't dead yet, but it is currently on life support. You will also have seen the speculation about holding elections this year. I have been very clear that I will not be requesting any further delays. This mess is not of our making, the government need to decide what they want and sort it out!

If you have any issues or I can help in any way, please contact me at kay.masonbillig.cllr@norfolk.gov.uk

Kay Mason-Billig

I'd like to start this month's column by hoping that, as well as a good Christmas, everyone has a Happy New Year. I'd like to especially express my good wishes to our valued friends and neighbours who have joined and enriched our community from other parts of this world. You are all part of our community, and very welcome; we would be poorer without you.

It was a pleasure once again to work with the ChetChat group, organising and delivering 117 Christmas hampers across the local area. Huge thanks to local businesses, and to many local friends, for their generosity, which enables us to continue this valuable local tradition. I'd like to pay particular thanks to Jo and Frank at The Angel, for their support and hosting of our Christmas Quiz.

I would like to pay tribute to teacher Paul Graveling for the incredible service he has given to my children, and to many hundreds, probably thousands, of others, during his long and distinguished career at Loddon Junior School. Thanks also to Paul's wife Hazel, who I know has been an incredible support to Paul over the years.

In terms of Chairing the Scrutiny Committee, on behalf of residents, our 2026 work programme starts off with a look at the SNDC budget, which obviously has an impact on all of us.

Finally, my next surgery is taking place 2-3pm 14 February in Loddon Library.

If there is anything I can help with, please get in touch. We are elected to serve you, and will always do that.

2025: A Year of Progress for Loddon Town Council

Loddon Town Council is proud to share a snapshot of what was achieved in 2025. Thanks to strong partnerships, careful planning, and the commitment of councillors, staff, volunteers, and residents, 2025 was a year of meaningful progress for Loddon.

Environment and Public Spaces: £10,000 from South Norfolk Council's Conservation Fund supported Warren Hills Woodland. A new community orchard was planted, a volunteer Biodiversity Warden appointed, a new notice-board, the Big Litter Pick, Love Loddon flower towers, and Community Payback teams helped keep the town clean and welcoming.

Transport, Highways and Safety: A Traffic Review Working Party was established. New and upgraded bus stops were delivered on Church Plain, the A146 and Beccles Road, and the High Bungay Road TRO was completed. The SAM2 speed device was regularly rotated, new grit bins purchased, and the High Street – Mill Road footpath formally registered.

Notes from Sisland

I always look back at the words of previous entries when considering what I might include in the entry I am composing. In January 2024 the temperature was 14 , last year 5 o and today it is -4. We can only comment on the increasing contrasts we see around us, and, within reason, these temperatures would all have been on the fifth of the month.

I enjoy January as we can reflect on the opportunities of the last few weeks to gather and celebrate the Christmas season, the buzz of activity around the Victorian Evening as well as the carol service where we enjoyed mince pies, mulled wine and the opportunity to chat. To catch up with friends and neighbours and enjoy spending time together. Thank you to all who supported Sisland Church through the tombola or being with us at a service. We are grateful, with everything that we reflect on in the news, to be able to celebrate and enjoy these occasions. As we progress through the winter months we are looking forward to the longer days and the warmth of spring, but also the plans for community events and other opportunities to gather together. At the forthcoming PCC meetings, across the Benefice, we will discuss fund-raising opportunities and community activities not only to fund repairs but also to grow our communities and support networks.

This year, as in previous ones, we are hoping to offer Sunday Teas in August as part of this strategy. We continue to look to support all those who are working tirelessly to maintain our building and communities through this period. The opportunity to come together and share, at Christmas time as well as in the spring and summer is an important part of the Christian faith and demonstrating a supportive community. With so many in our community willing to provide and share food in these difficult times, we will all continue, I am sure, to understand the importance of this work, but also the ability of food to bring many together for the mutual benefit of all.

Community Groups, News and Events

Chet Valley Patchworkers

We are a small group of friendly sewers who get together on the last Wednesday of the month to enjoy their shared pastime. We meet at The Brian Clarke Rooms, Chedgrave 9:30am to 12:00 noon where we share our quilting successes, failures and learn from and with each other. Whilst we do not 'teach' how to do patchwork or quilting we do share the vast amount of knowledge we have within the group—so those starting out in the craft can pick up how to, tips and tricks; somebody is always willing to give advice or show you how. If we don't have anything to work on at group meetings we often bring along other crafts such as crochet or knitting and enjoy a show and tell of finished items and each other's company.

If this is something you think you might like to come along to, your first meeting is free - we pay by annual membership, which is decided each May. Contact Vicki Radley on 01508 538461 or email vicrad@live.co.uk. We look forward to welcoming you.

Loddon Bell Ringers

Looking back we rang a half-muffled quarter peal of Plain Bob Triples on Remembrance Sunday afternoon to remember the fallen in wars around the world past and present. The 1260 changes took 47 minutes to complete and the ringers were 1. David Webb 2. Jeannine Roe 3. Paul Norris 4. Sandra Norris 5. Ann Webb 6. Stephen Rabong 7. Katie Wright (Conductor) 8. Levi Lovelock.

During the last month we have also rung quarter peals with others at Norton Subcourse, Ludham, Bergh-Apton, St Peter Mancroft in Norwich, Necton, Castle Acre, Shipdham, Saham Tony, East Raynham and Wighton in North Norfolk.

We also took part with others in three Peals during December. 5040 Seven Surprise Minor methods at St. Peter Mancroft in 2 hours 45 minutes, 5040 Seven Treble Dodging Minor methods at Norton Subcourse in 2 hours 47 minutes and 5040 Seven Surprise minor methods at Long Stratton again in 2 hours 45 minutes.

We rang our bells for the Victorian evening at the start of December, the carol service, crib service and evening service held at Holy Trinity on Christmas Eve and then again on Christmas morning itself.

Some of our members worked hard to master the art of ringing tunes and Christmas carols on handbells and entertained many people at a concert given at the Angel pub in the run up to Christmas Day. This was the first time some of our members had rung handbells and they gave a wonderful performance.

A Peal of 5088 Cassiobury Surprise Major was rung at Holy Trinity on New Year's Day taking 2 hours 55 minutes to ring to welcome in 2026.

Chet Valley Medical Practice

Patient Participation Group

Working together to improve your patient experience

The PPG hope that all readers had a joyous and healthy Christmas and New Year. It is now the time of the year that 'flu seems to strike! Do please make sure you are up to date with all your jabs, including Covid if eligible. We cannot stress strongly enough the benefit of having the "small scratch"!! Plus we all seem to get down in the doldrums when the festivities are over and January is always the longest month ever. Should you be affected by SAD (seasonal affective disorder) you can always have a chat with either the Pharmacist or a member of the Practice team.

Can we also remind you that if you have made a Lasting Power of Attorney covering all your medical needs, do please lodge a copy with the Surgery. This will save any unnecessary delay in getting the right treatment when required. It is something that we put off doing, but it is very important to keep up to date as you never know when the LPA might be needed.

Please visit the Chet Valley Medical Practice website regularly to keep up to date with current medical issues as well as the latest copy of their Newsletter. Watch this space for details of another Open Evening. They are proving to be very popular and informative. Also please don't forget the PPG is here for YOU: please contact at any time by email: ChetvalleymedicalpracticePPG@gmail.com We welcome any feedback and will always respond to a query and any useful ideas for future topics for any Open Evening Get Together.

LODDON LIFELONG LEARNERS (formerly Loddon WEA)

After over 20 years of working with the WEA to provide general interest lectures in Loddon, we have decided to 'go it alone'! The WEA have asked us to provide our own lecturers for the past two years and so we were very pleased to welcome Dr. Joe Williams to give our first independent course on 'English Poetry' in November which was very well received. By working independently, we can avoid the excruciating online booking system which the WEA put us through. We are working hard to recruit lecturers to come to Loddon to provide an interesting course of 3 lectures to take place during the Spring and Autumn Terms. If you have attended our courses in the past you will know that we are a lively group who enjoy a good discussion!

Gerry Nelson's Art Group

Sorry, but I missed print deadlines prior to the holiday break!

For information, the October 2025 Art Exhibition at Seething and Mundham Village Hall raised £1520.00. The 2 charities, Bowel Cancer UK and Parkinson's UK, each received £760.00. With Gift Aid applied this meant that each charity benefitted to the tune of £950.00.

This event also brought the total raised for various charities through my art and the art group since the mid 1990's to over £20000.00

Thanks so much to all who have supported myself and the group over these years

Loddon and District Local History Group

In November, Andy Woodman talked to us about the work he has been doing at the Roman town at Caistor St Edmund. He is a member of the community archaeology group founded in 2009, as a charity, called the Caistor Roman Project. There are 150 members from many walks of life who have carried out regular summer digs within and around the old Roman town. Andy outlined some of the earlier excavations that have taken place on this site like the ones led by Will Bowden between 2008 - 2012 when the temple, forum, housing, baths, roads and gates were revealed. Since then the Caistor Roman Project has carried out several digs including one on Wymer Field which was the first time the triple ditches that run through the field had been excavated. Findings include a disarticulated horse, pottery and the remains of a young woman.

In 1957 the foundations of a Temple were discovered in a dig by Sophia Mottram. Other work has taken place there since then and in 2019 ground penetrating radar was used for the first time showing that there were two phases to the building. There is evidence of multi coloured painted plaster and high status jewellery was found. The radar was used again in 2021 revealing a previously unknown extension. The temple complex is now thought to predate the main town and may be the reason why the town was founded there.

Over the following years other excavations have taken place: in 2020 at Caistor Hall; in 2022 at Friston Fields; in 2024 at Burnthouse Field and in 2025 when the triple ditches were examined. Many finds of coins, jewellery and decorated pottery have been found.

Andy finished by giving us the current conclusions from all the latest digs. The Roman town probably controlled the local population and protected the temple site. The town may have been founded in AD 80 as the provincial capital for commercial purposes and the walls were added around AD 270. By mid to late Saxon times the town moved to Norwich and the material from the walls of Caistor Roman town has been seen in some of the mediaeval churches that were built. This was an interesting talk.

Next meeting: Wednesday February 18th - the A.G.M.

All meetings are held in St John's Lecture Hall, George Lane, Loddon starting at 1:30pm. Admission £3 (includes light refreshments). All welcome. For more information email Elvie: Elvie.herd@uwclub.net.

Read Any Good Books Lately?

Me and Mr Darcy, by Alexandra Potter

Just in time for Valentine's Day! The premise of this book is that every woman is looking for her Mr Darcy and imagines if you found the real one.

The heroine, Emily, is a bookshop manager in New York who is obsessed with Jane Austen, and Mr Darcy - of course! She decides to take herself on a Jane Austen tour in the UK, but soon realises she won't find her dream man here - just a coach full of pensioners and one particularly aggravating (if handsome) journalist, Spike. When she finds herself face-to-face with none other than Jane Austen's Darcy himself she must work out if fantasy becoming reality is actually all it's cracked up to be...

A Court of Thorns and Rose, by Sarah J. Maas

I've not dipped much into the genre of romantasy (romance mixed with fantasy!) but thought it would be good to give it a whirl! This is the first book in the bestselling series (inspired by Beauty and the Beast) from Sarah J. Maas. It follows mortal Feyre who, after accidentally killing a faerie, finds herself hostage in the mystical lands of Prythian. Dragged to a magical land she knows about only from legends, Feyre discovers that her captor, Tamlin, is not truly a beast, but one of the lethal, immortal Fae. Their relationship grows but shadows start to creep in - Tamlin has a dark secret that he cannot share. Feyre has been brought to Prythian for a reason, but saving Tamlin from the darkness that threatens his world will lead her down a path that she can never return from.

The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy, by Douglas Adams

(Review by David Redford)

As research for a project, I went back and read this cult favourite from my teenage years. Starting out as a book about local bureaucracy and planning disputes, it quickly evolves into an intergalactic adventure story featuring Arthur Dent and his alien sidekick Ford Prefect. What's striking about this book that was written in the late 70s is how prophetic it was about modern technology - from video links (think Zoom calls) to the Guide itself (a hyper-connected iPad). And also striking is how funny the book still is.

Hamnet, by Maggie O'Farrell

Special mention to Maggie O'Farrell and her sublime novel Hamnet - out now as a film starring Jessie Buckley and Paul Mescal. The story explores the relationship of William Shakespeare and his wife Agnes Hathaway when they lose their eleven year old son and the impact of the loss and grief on them.

Nature Notes

I trust you all had a happy Christmas and that 2026 will be a year of opportunities and blessings, although by now Christmas may have become a distant memory. My bird count for 2025 at Hardley Staithe reached the dizzy heights of 103, the only December addition being a Pintail duck flying low upstream on the river Yare. I only caught a glimpse of it as disappeared behind a curtain of reeds. Initially, I did not intend to include it, but when a Pintail appeared the following day at the sugar beet ponds across the river, I decided to do so. Also, I know in past years that they were regular winter visitors to Hardley Flood.

So far, I have only been to the Staithe for dog walks. I considered visiting Trinity Broads and Ludham for notable ducks and the rare overwintering Black Winged Kite. However with the sudden change in the weather I had to be content indoors looking out at the falling snow. I have however been able to see locally fifty-nine different species of bird so far this year. The real highlight being this morning while walking across the fields from Hardley Steet to the Staithe I became aware of something sitting on a fence post ahead of me. My first thought was it was a Kestrel but quickly realised it was too big. I was thrilled to discover that it was a Short-Eared Owl. Although I had heard reports of its recent presence, seeing it perched serenely and looking so majestic was truly memorable. While watching enthralled by the owl, movement in the reeds caught my eye and out came a fox which made its way along the front of the reeds before disappearing again. The owl then flew into the next field and out of sight. As we headed back to the car, it reappeared, briefly flying over the car park pursued by two crows before vanishing again.

Looking ahead to 2026, I realize that although several bird species live nearby, they have not yet been observed in the Staithe area, but may possibly appear there in the coming years. Ravens, Cattle Egrets, and Spoonbills are frequently observed both upstream and downstream of the Staithe. Additionally, if certain fields beyond the shooting pits become flooded during winter, this may attract a greater number of wading birds. Who knows what might turn up.

Since there have been no reports of the Black Winged Kite today, I might have missed my opportunity to see it. However, there is an Eastern Black Redstart at Sheringham and the first-time breeding Zitting Cisticola in this country are still at Walbeswick. Although it was once known as the Fantailed Warbler, I am uncertain about the reason for its new name. I will try it soon, but I am confused because the app says to use my phone, while calling tells me to use the app.

Whether its watching through a window or wrapping up warm and going for a walk seeing and enjoying nature and our natural surroundings does you good.

Gardening Notes

From Another Garden - by Hazel Copland

Snow! For two days the garden looked perfect, pristine and sparkling. I even avoided disturbing the virgin snow on the lawn and driveway just so I could appreciate the beauty and the light that reflects from its surface. Of course the birds and animals left their footprints including the mysterious cat that presumably preys on the mice in the bank.

Rain last night has melted lots of the snow but it still looks pretty. Today five different varieties of Hellebores are in flower, there are catkins on the Hazel tree and bulbs are growing in the pots I planted up.

The evenings have been spectacular, the eastern sky glowing pink, reflecting the glorious sunsets of peach and orange in the west. Then there was the full 'Wolf' moon shining brightly on the snow lighting up the night garden.

I've put boiled water out in bowls for the various creatures as everything is frozen solid. Our fearless Robin is never far away and reminds me when the bird feeders need topping up. The blackbirds are back and eating the damaged Bramley apples that I threw out, the nibbled ones found when I discovered a mouse had been nesting in the box of apples wrapped in newspaper in the greenhouse. I am very grateful to have a garden to enjoy and the special relationship I have with all that grows and goes there.

There is a name for this natural connection to nature that Humans have, 'Biophilia' from the Greek, 'philia' meaning 'love of'. Tending to plants helps me to be present, teaches patience and gives a purpose which in turn calms, restores and reduces stress. I recommend gardening to everyone, even if they only have a window box.
